

To: Fidis, Alexander[Fidis.Alexander@epa.gov]; Fullagar, Jill[Fullagar.Jill@epa.gov]; Burgess, Karen[Burgess.Karen@epa.gov]
Cc: Bonifacino, Gina[Bonifacino.Gina@epa.gov]; Bonifaci, Angela[Bonifaci.Angela@epa.gov]; Croxton, Dave[Croxton.David@epa.gov]; Steiner-Riley, Cara[Steiner-Riley.Cara@epa.gov]
From: Chang, Lisa
Sent: Tue 9/22/2015 2:49:27 PM
Subject: FW: What's Upstream Web Site
20150916_WUS-Elected Letter.docx
20150916_WUS-HomepageContent.docx

;;;

Hi Karen, Alex, and Jill –

A few weeks ago, I asked you for your review of a website mock-up and letter being prepared by the recipient of a subaward under one of our cooperative agreement recipients. Thank you for the comments you provided at that time!!

The grantee has revised the mock-up and letter and sent it back to us (attached). Can you please take one more look and let me know if you see any remaining issues of concern?

On a quick glance, they don't seem to have incorporated all our edits relating to permitting/regulatory requirements. They have also not provided support for some assertions about the characteristics of agricultural NPS pollution.

If at all possible, can you please look at this by Monday 9/28 COB?

Thank you,

Lisa

From: Marty Loesch [mailto:marty1@strategies360.com]
Sent: Wednesday, September 16, 2015 1:32 PM
To: Bonifaci, Angela; Chang, Lisa; Opalski, Dan
Cc: lwasserman@swinomish.nsn.us; Jeff Reading
Subject: What's Upstream Web Site

Dan, Angela and Lisa,

Thank you for your guidance over the past several months regarding the Swinomish Tribal Indian Community's What's Upstream public information campaign about non-point source pollution. We have reviewed your thoughtful suggested edits to our content, and have incorporated many of them in the final versions of text for the website and the letter to elected officials, which you will find attached.

The updated website will go live by the end of October, and, we believe, is stronger as a result of your team's input. Thank you again for your assistance and support of this important ongoing project.

All the best,

Marty